Data Analyst

An experienced Analyst skilled in handling, cleaning, exploring, and visualizing large datasets for informed decision-making. With a background in Computer Science and Engineering, I have excelled as a Java/Android Developer and delved into content development and product design. Proficient in Java, Python, SQL, and more, I am passionate about data science and proficient in Tableau, Power BI, Excel, and Google BigQuery. I am willing to work at a company where I can use my passion for the growth of the company as well as mine.
